Kumo (which means "cloud" in Japanese), is the mostly white Rex with a diamond on her head, and Amé (which means "rain" in Japanese), is the mostly gray one with a diagonal line across her face. They are both about 1 year old, spayed, healthy and friendly. Contact us for more information!

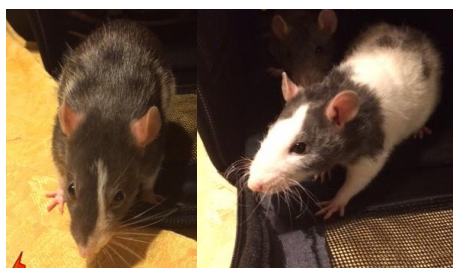

Elby is a dark tan-capped rat rescued from Prescott Valley who is currently under treatment for a likely ear infection with an improving head tilt. He is about 5 months old. He is bonded with Stephie, black-capped, spayed female who is approximately 6 months old.

Do you need a cage or supplies for your furry friends? The rescue has a selection of cages, hammocks, litter boxes, igloos and much more. Homemade dry food and litter are also readily available. The rescue asks for donations for these supplies which help provide more rats with a second chance.

Meet Bing and Crosby. They are black capped males. Crosby (left) has some black spots on his back. We are guessing they are about a 1 1/2 years old. They are easy to handle. They were found at a Petco where a family had left them.

Dutch, the gray, is between 1.5-2 years old, and his son, Sonny, (black and white) is about 1 year old. They are both friendly. Dutch is being treated for respiratory symptoms. They will be available on 11-7-15.
