October 2015

Do you need a cage or supplies for your furry friends? The rescue has a selection of cages, hammocks, litter boxes, igloos and much more. Homemade dry food and litter are also readily available. The rescue asks for donations for these supplies which help provide more rats with a second chance.

Maha, whose name means "great" in yoga terms, is a 1-year-old black hooded boy. He is not neutered and will be available after his quarantine ends on Sept. 17. He is working on his social skills with his foster family and should be a loving addition to your home. Wouldn't you like to meet him?

Meet Moon and Harvest, 6-week-old black Berkshires. They were found at a park in a shoe box in Mesa, although they are not yet bonded. They can be adopted together or as singles to be a companion to other rats. Contact us for more information!

Trick or Treat!!

Elby is a dark tan-capped rat rescued from Prescott Valley who is currently under treatment for a likely ear infection with an improving head tilt. He is about 5 months old. He is bonded with Stephie, black-capped, spayed female who is approximately 6 months old.

Meet Bing and Crosby. They are black capped males. Crosby (left) has some black spots on his back. We are guessing they are about a 1 1/2 years old. They are easy to handle. They were found at a Petco where a family had left them. They will be available for adoption after 10-15-2016.

Tizz is a grey and white dumbo who is estimated to be about 11 months old. He was found in a cage next to a parakeet in an alley. He is super sweet, adventurous, and loves to explore different surroundings. He doesn't mind being held and will actually come to the cage door to be let out. He does squeak sometimes, but it's cute and he seems happy. He also loves his head being rubbed. He will be paired up if there is not already a friend already in his new home.
