

January 2015

Neville is a light tan hooded Rex who is about 10 weeks old. He was left as a stray at one of the emergency animal clinics. He weighs just 150 g, but it is hard to tell if this is due to malnutrition or due to his natural wavy hair. He is a friendly boy who is in need of a pal. Wouldn't you like to meet Neville?

Schemer is about six months old and Brisby is at least a year and a half old, and the alpha of the duo. She likes to groom Schemer. They wrestle a lot, but are very playful together. They are easy to handle, but Schemer is a little skittish. Brisby can sit on your shoulder as long as you let her. Both are spayed. They are very loving and playful, and are the best of friends.

Miss Whiskers and Roxy are very friendly Siamese girls. Roxy is 1 year old and Miss Whiskers is 1 1/2 years old.

Petey and Holden are black-hooded, neutered boys. They are about 8 months to a year old. Petey is friendly and interactive but needs practice being held and pet. Holden is on the shy side and prefers relaxing over highly active situations. They need someone with the time and patience as well as prior rat experience to make them great boys. They have made a lot of progress already in a short time!

Wash and Garry are the black berkshires. They are very sweet boys, although they are still a little shy. Even when the most anxious one, Wash, is panicked, he will only do a warning graze of teeth. They are very active and adventurous, and would be great for agility or tricks. They are between 6 and 8 months old.

Ironman came from a large litter, and is the last one of his siblings still waiting to be adopted. He is about 10 weeks old and sometimes a bit melodramatic, but he will get friendlier with more attention. Wouldn't you like to give this cute boy a forever home?

Carson and Fitz recently came into the rescue. They are about 8 months to a year old. They are definitely still in their prime and love to run all over when let out. They are very excited to interact with people. They would be fine as first-time pets but they probably would not do well in a house with other rats since they're males and might be hostile towards others.

Meet Donut, the tan hooded, and Eclair, the black hooded boy. They are about 5 months old. They are very curious and handsome. Donut does not have red eyes - he just photographs that way.
